

How I became the diva I am today

Furever Friends Cat Rescue is a nonprofit organization based in Altona. We operate with volunteers, donations, and support from our community. Our mission is to rescue the lost, abandoned, and homeless cats in our community. We are dedicated to the care and wellbeing of our local feral cat population and to help educate the public on the need to spay/neuter pets, the prevention of animal cruelty, and the importance of responsible pet ownership.

Hello, my name is Phaedra! Do you like yoga? I sure do. I can't wait to do some stretching with you at Altona Yoga on Oct. 2, at the Cat Yoga Fundraiser!

Some of my favourite poses are downward facing dog and cobra pose, but I'm really, really good at just lying on a mat and practicing my deep breathing. I'm going to be at Altona Yoga for all three classes at 1, 2 and 3 p.m. I know there will be some kids to play with at the first two classes. That is going to be so much fun!

The 3 p.m. class will feature more serious posture movements with adults. I'll help you, if you're having trouble achieving serenity, by purring in your lap.

Although I'm super good at yoga and could probably be an instructor, I feel like my calling is actually to be a big star! Have you ever heard the saying "big things come in small packages"? Well, that's me! I'm a big star in a teeny, tiny package. I have a face that the camera just loves, you should see my head shots! My pitch perfect voice fills the room, no microphone needed. Most importantly, I have the charisma and charm to warm any heart. I'm destined to see my name in lights!

It's the classic rags to riches story...homeless, helpless and living in destitution with my family under an old deck, until I was discovered at a very young age (just born, in fact). Even as a newborn, my star power was shining through. My talent agency, Furever Friends, provided me and my foster family with everything I needed to become the diva I am today. Personal assistants, chauffeured rides to the vet, pate food and mani/pedis became a part of my regular life.

I stay in top form with lots of practice concerts and yoga workouts since you never know when you'll get booked for an action movie. During my down time, I enjoy lounging on laps and looking adoringly into people's eyes. I'm told my purr is exceptional.

Guess what?! I'm about to get my big break! My agency called and told me they're working on booking me for the biggest job of my career...I think it's a movie or something called "My Adoption". I'm told the casting director loved me and is considering me for the lead. What do you think, could I be the leading lady in your life?

I hope to see you at the Cat Yoga Fundraiser! All the money raised from each $20 session is being donated to my talent agency, Furever Friends Cat Rescue. It'll help pay for my care and training, and the care of some of their other cats, you know, the ones that try to hog the spotlight. I wish they'd all realize, I'm the star of the Cat Yoga show!
